Ref: Three vehicles, 2005 Ferrari 575 Superamerica F1 (143792), 2004 Ferrari Challenge Stradale (136570), 2007 Maserati Quattroporte Sport GT (029562).

Dear Mr. Butcher,

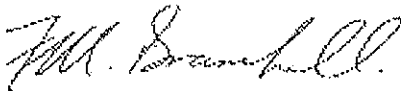

Please find enclosed a copy of our report for each of the above vehicles. We have indicated the current retail market for each vehicle and also the limited but informative wholesale examples.

We suggest that the simplest procedure to dispose of the vehicles is to do a telephone survey of dealers on the east coast of the U.S. to get a measure of their enthusiasm for the purchase of the vehicles. Based on this we would send an information package to each dealer with photographs and request a firm offer with a short term limited time deadline. From our telephone conversations with Canadian dealers we have had strong expressions of interest to purchase the cars. We could approach the Ferrari/Maserati specialists in the Montreal/Toronto areas to obtain expressions of interest, email an information package and request a firm offer with a short term limited time deadline.

We have contacted TFX International, the car shipper, they have indicated shipping costs of $1,690.00 per vehicle plus $100.00 for broker costs per vehicle.

Yours truly

Maurice Bramhall and Associates

2004 Ferrari Challenge Stradale Serial No. 136570.

Current Retail Market

There are vehicles currently being offered depending on mileage in the $130,000.00 to $190,000.00 range. Two vehicles are currently on trader.ca in Quebec, one is listed at $185,900.00 with 2,500 kilometers, the second one is listed at $129,000.00 with 7,500 kilometers. The Quebec Ferrari franchise is offering a vehicle with 16,000 Kilometers for $ 189,900.00, they indicated that they had had it in stock for a long time and were open to offers. In the U.S. the vehicles fit within the same basic range.

In our conversations with retail dealers a pragmatic retail value for this example is in the $150,000.00 to $165,000.00 range. The normal wholesale would be a value of $15,000.00 to $20,000.00 less.

There is one vehicle currently being offered on the Manheim Wholesale web site with a "buy it now" price of $137,500.00 U.S. With the 6.2% import duty this would convert to approximately $146,000.00 Cdn.
